Building a road safety resilience plan

Road safety is up to all of us – whether you are a driver, passenger, pedestrian, cyclists, or use a scooter or skateboard – we are all road users. We all play a part in reducing the impacts of road trauma and building road safety resilience.

Some suggestions for your road safety resilience plan are included below.

Building Road Safety Resilience for a Fatality Free Future

- Always be fit to be on or near the road
- Ensure you are not impacted by fatigue, drugs or alcohol
- Avoid distractions e.g. headphones and stay focused on the road / be aware of your surroundings
- Cross roads where it is safe to do so i.e. pedestrian crossings, traffic lights
- Be visible i.e. wear bright / reflective clothing

- Always wear your seat belt
- Be a 'second set of eyes' for your driver
- Only travel with someone who's fit to drive
- Don't distract the driver
- Support the driver to ensure all other passengers act responsibly
- Ensure you never get into an overcrowded car
